Funding requests and what they mean for our students

CAPITAL REQUEST

$5 million in HEAPR funds will allow us to preserve assets by replacing roof and windows, plus upgrading security hardware

BIENNIAL BUDGET REQUEST

$6.6 million (shared with Inver Hills) will allow us to:

- Provide grant support for an estimated 310 students in need
- Meet needs for technology opportunities, including energy technicians, civil technicians and IT
- Enhance services like peer tutoring, veteran services, and support for English language learners
- Fund training in culturally responsive teaching and services
- Help close the achievement gap for students of color and at-risk students

Why DCTC?

Offering hands-on instruction with faculty who are experts in their industries, we focus on supporting students as they prepare for successful careers in high-demand fields.

Making Connections

The Douglas Differt Difference Makers endowed scholarship is just one example of the power of connections to help students. We reach underserved populations while helping businesses meet their workforce needs.

- D3M supports engineering programs
- Key D3M partners include MnDOT, Alliant Engineering and Urban Youth Core

Engaging Business

Our goal is to partner with more businesses, to better understand their needs, and to deepen our relationships with them. In partnership with Inver Hills, we offer area employers:

- Opportunities to engage students as potential employees through classroom visits, job shadowing, internships, and joint recruitment.
- On-going training and employee development opportunities.

ONE OF OUR BUSINESS PARTNERS

With 21 locations in Minnesota and Iowa, Ziegler Cat is an important partner for DCTC's Heavy Construction Equipment Technology program. Ziegler Cat serves on our program advisory board, regularly donates scholarship money for students, and is a top employer of our graduates.

Sharing A Vision

Dedicated to improving the lives of students, their families, and the communities we serve, the missions of DCTC and Inver Hills are grounded in empowering advancement through educational opportunities. As sister institutions under Minnesota State, we have aligned our operations to better serve our students and communities.

As part of our shared efforts to improve student success and foster community partnerships, the colleges are focused on enhancing students' access to career pathways and working with government and business leaders on workforce development.
